Govi farm is the result of tradition, passion and research

Tradition linked to the use of typical ingredients of our table that for entire generations have represented the highest form of nutrition: legumes, rich in flavor and proteins, are variously combined with wholewheat flours of rice and other grains to create an innovative and tasty product.

Passion for good and natural things, to bring to the tables of many consumers the best of organic farming, transformed by us into classic products of Italian cuisine. Careful and accurate

Research to obtain products with high nutritional value in respect of taste and naturalness, in a world in constant evolution.
